Headline: Activate memorable experiences instantly.
Tagline: Turnkey, branded interactive experiences deployed in real time, built to boost engagement and capture leads.
CTA: Activate Now

Intro / value statement

Custom interactive experiences used to mean long timelines and bloated budgets. Activate skips both. Pick a game, brand it, and go live. Attendees get something worth stopping for, and you get the lead data and engagement metrics to prove it worked, at a fraction of the cost of a custom build.

Three-point benefit strip

Live fast. Games are already built. Branding and deployment happen in real time, not over a production schedule.
Spend less. A custom-feeling experience without the custom-build price tag.
Prove it. Every play captures lead data and interaction metrics, so you walk out of the show with results, not just foot traffic.
Customize it. Build upon this platform. Incorporate more branded elements directly into the game play, reskin the entire UI or even modify the interactive experience.

Who it's for

Exhibit & Experiential Agencies
Give your clients an interactive centerpiece without adding a dev project to your build schedule. Activate drops into your booth designs, deploys on your timeline, and makes you look like the team that thought of everything. Add interactivity to any proposal without adding risk or overhead.

Marketing Agencies
Stop telling clients an interactive activation is out of budget. Activate lets you pitch, brand, and launch engaging experiences quickly, with lead capture and reporting built in, so you can show clients real numbers after the event.

Brands
Your booth competes with hundreds of others. Activate gives attendees a reason to walk up, experience your brand in an interactive way, and share their details willingly. Your team gets qualified leads and clear engagement data without waiting on long development cycles.

How it works

1. Choose your game. Browse the library and pick the experience that fits your event and audience.
2. Brand it. Your logos, colors, and messaging go in, so it feels built for you.
3. Pitch it. Record the live game play with branding applied and close more business.
4. Activate. Go live in real time and start engaging attendees immediately.
5. Capture and measure. Collect lead data and track interaction metrics as people play.

Why Activate

- Turnkey. No custom development, no long lead times, no surprises.
- Branded. Every experience carries your identity, not ours.
- Lead-focused. Player registration and data capture are part of the game flow, not an afterthought.
- Measurable. Interaction metrics show what worked so you can justify the spend and improve the next event.
- Affordable. Custom-feeling results at a fraction of custom-build pricing.

Game Descriptions

Basketball Game

Fast, gesture-controlled hoops that attendees keep coming back to beat their score. A floor-visible leaderboard drives repeat plays, every player registers so you capture the lead, and play metrics show your results.

Cyber Runner

A cyber-themed endless runner: dodge phishing attacks, block malware, stay ahead of the breach. It turns your product story into gameplay, captures a lead on every run, and gives you engagement data on how visitors play.

Soccer Game

The same proven engine as our basketball game, reskinned as a fast-paced soccer match. Get a second format for a broader audience, with the same lead capture and metrics, delivered quickly.

Lazer Shooter

An instant-engagement arcade shooter that pulls a crowd from across the hall. Short rounds keep the line moving, so more visitors play, more leads get captured, and score data shows the traffic it drove to your booth.

Coming Soon.

Golf Challenge
Integrate your brand into the game itself. A premium timed putting challenge that's quick to learn and competitive from the first shot. A live score race keeps spectators watching, which gives your team more time to talk, while registration captures leads and score data tracks participation.

Jeopardy
A branded trivia board for teams, with themed categories and fast audience participation. It turns product knowledge into a live leaderboard moment, captures team leads up front, and shows you which topics resonate.

A brand message can be seen. A participatory moment gets remembered, replayed, and shared.

We help agency teams turn a brief into an experience people understand in seconds and want to try again. The brand is built into the play, the participation creates a natural reason to share, and the format can extend across event screens, personal devices, and campaign touchpoints.

Don't take our word for it.
